Ways and Means

A Resolution that the National Park Service privatize National Parks in the form of a Public-Private Partnership.

Whereas: The National Park Service has roughly $12 billion in a backlog of maintenance and improvement projects; and,

Whereas: Private companies are more efficient and less costly than civil servants; and,

Whereas: Less tax dollars would be funneled into the National Park Service and politicians could not use this problem as one of their pawns; and,

Whereas: Lower admission fees would allow more low-income families to visit national parks and thus make them more available to the public; and,

Therefore: Be it resolved...
